BLOODSHED, VIOLENCE IN PRIMARY

PROPOSE FUND FOR UPKEEP OF MARION PARKS

Tax Levy Adequate for Needs of Future Suggested at Council Meeting
WOULD RAISE $75,000

Plan Is Discussed as North Side Residents Seek Money for Lincoln Park

Establishing of a fund to be maintained by a tax levy and to be used exclusively for care and upkeep of the three city parks, located as a possibility at the meeting of City Council last night was the direct result of a movement launched by the North Side Civic Association for maintaining a playground at Lincoln Park. The proposal was presented to Council by representatives of the association last night.

A tax levy of probably one and one-half mills would be made, the residents of the North Side were told by Council. This, it was stated, would provide about $75,000 a year, to be divided among the three parks, giving each park ample money with which to operate. At the same time the addition to the taxes would be small, councilmen said.

Members of the association who received little encouragement in a meeting with the park board two weeks ago, found a spirit of willingness to cooperate when they carried their fight to Council last night.

Charles J. C. Hudson, spokesman for the group, that Council had failed to provide sufficient money for park purposes because the members were unable to "see the light," were met with the response that it was not a question of "seeing the light" as it was a question of "seeing the money."

Funds Lacking
"We have seen the light, right along," A. H. Williams, chairman of the finance committee said, "and are in hearty accord with the project, but the city simply has not had the money to care for the parks as should have been done."

Councilman Mead of the second ward, was inclined to agree with the representatives of the North Side, that Lincoln Park has been sometimes overlooked for the parks, but said he did not believe money would be available at the present time to help the playground project.

While pleased with the idea of a tax levy for the maintenance of the parks, and assuring council they would use their efforts to bring about its passage, the representatives of the group turned to Page 2.

LOCAL THEATER LEASED TODAY

Oakland Taken Over by Celina Man, Who Plans Improvements

The Oakland Theater, located at David and Bellefontaine, has been leased for 10 years to Reuben Maxson of Celina, who will operate it after making extensive improvements, it was announced today. The lease was negotiated today by Maxson with W. T. Jones, owner of the building.

The Marion Photo Play Co., which has held the lease since the theater was opened about five years ago, will operate the house until the close of this week. After that, the place will be closed until Maxson is able to complete his program of improvements.

Improvement Plans
He stated today that the interior will be entirely redecorated, new equipment installed and other improvements made.

The lease of the Marion Photo Play Co. terminated Jan. 1, when the company announced that it would not apply for a renewal, deciding to give all of its attention to management of its two downtown houses, the Marion and Grand.

BOOSTERS FOR IMPROVEMENTS PLAN MEETING

Advocates of Uptown Project To Get Together Thursday Night
EXPECT TO ORGANIZE

Will Arrange To Present Paving and Light Proposals to City Council

Organization of a permanent uptown improvement association, out of which is expected to grow a movement for the repaving of principal streets in the business district and the installation of a new lighting system, will take place Thursday night at the Schaffer Furniture Store, it was announced today.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock and invitations were going out today to all property owners on Main street from Mill to Columbus and on E. Center street from Main to Greenwood.

Leaders in the movement for the general improvement of these two business streets announced today that they were meeting with encouraging success with their petitions for the repaving of the streets.

Expected to Organize
It is expected that the improvement association will be formally organized Thursday night and its plans of action outlined. As soon as the paving petitions have been filed the association will send representatives to City Council with a request that the business district be the next considered in the city improvement program.

City officials already have agreed that the improvement of the business district is a necessity and have indicated they are ready to cooperate with the improvement association leaders when they are organized.

FIGHT FOR BIG TAX CUT TO BE LAUNCHED

United States Chamber of Commerce To Open Drive Thursday

Washington, April 10.—A definite fight for a $400,000,000 tax reduction will be launched before the Senate Finance Committee Thursday by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

President Coolidge has indicated he will veto any bill that goes over $291,000,000.

Officials of the organization announced today that they would seek a reduction in the corporation tax from 12 1/2 to 10 per cent, and repeal of all excess and inheritance taxes. They contend this can be accomplished without danger of a Treasury deficit.

Acting Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills indicated that the Treasury will oppose any tax cutting program in excess of the $200,000,000 maximum set by Secretary Mellon and approved by President Coolidge.

Says Sinclair Prompted By Highest Patriotic Motives

ATTORNEYS FAR APART AS THEY TALK TO JURY

Wright Declares Oil Magnate Saved Nation Untold Losses

TRIAL GETS UNDER WAY
Government Prosecutor Asserts Sinister Conspiracy Sealed by Bribe

Washington, April 10.—As far apart as the poles were the two stories related today to the grand jury sitting on the criminal conspiracy trial of Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oil operator. From Owen J. Roberts, the government's special oil prosecutor, the 12 men heard of a sinister conspiracy, sealed by a $225,000 bribe, between Sinclair and former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall to wrest fraudulently the Teapot Dome Naval Oil Reserve from the public.

From Judge Daniel T. Wright, member of Sinclair's counsel, they heard of a legitimate business transaction, prompted by the highest patriotic motives, which saved the nation untold losses.

PICK YOUNG JURY TO TRY SINCLAIR

Washington, April 10.—A young jury has been selected to try Harry F. Sinclair, multimillionaire oil magnate, for his part in the leasing of the Teapot Dome Naval Oil Reserve. Seven of the jurors are in their twenties and the average age of all the jurors is but little more than 34.

The jury is composed of: Harry E. Brooks, 25, standstill; Leon J. Vandenberg, 21, real estate; William H. Wynn, 37, governor; Nevin Laid, 32, store manager; Fred H. Keeler, 28, grocer; Howard A. Bandler, 22, salesman; William F. Thompson, 17, merchant; Edward J. Lynch, 33, clerk; Benjamin F. Anderson, 28, transfer company manager; L. Clark Brown, 27, broker; Roy V. Shockey, 28, clerk; and Kenneth Carter, 28, railroad agent.

Losses in oil lying under the public domain.

Tells of Secrecy
Roberts declared that he expected to prove that Sinclair gave Fall $225,000 in Liberty Bonds, acknowledged "even by a receipt or the scratch of a pen," in exchange for a lease on the oil reserve. He said he would show that the negotiations were conducted in greatest secrecy and that other oil concerns eager to acquire the lease had been frozen out without their admitted privilege to bid on the property.

Wright led the jury through an intricate lecture on geology, claimed that had the reserve not been leased outside wells would have drained off all the oil, and asserted that the negotiations with Sinclair were conducted in the greatest secrecy.

Injured Youth Still Unconscious, but Is Expected to Recover

News of an automobile accident at Akron in which Robert Templeton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Templeton, former residents of this city, received a fractured skull, was received by friends here today.

A telephone message from the People's hospital in that city this morning, said Templeton was still unconscious but that the physicians were hopeful of his recovery.

Akron papers carried the following account of the accident:

"Templeton was in the People's hospital Monday with a possible fractured skull, following an automobile crash at 15th and Broadway, Cuyahoga Falls, Sunday night.

Struck by Sedan
"Templeton drove out of Lakeland onto Broadway and was struck by a sedan being driven by Kelley Wolf, of 225 W. Broadway. Wolf claims Templeton drove out of the cross street when his car was almost in the intersection and that he made every effort to avoid the collision. When the cars struck, Templeton either attempted to jump or was thrown through the door of his car onto the pavement. He was picked up unconscious and rushed to the hospital."

While in this city, the Templetons lived at 709 N. Prospect. The father was employed as a superintendent at the plant of the Marion County Lumber Co. Young Templeton was a student at Harding High. The family moved from this city to Akron more than a year ago.

Chicago City Officials and Poll Workers Terrified by Gangsters

BALLOT BOXES STUFFED

Hoodlums Reported To Have Wrecked Booths at Various Election Places

Chicago, April 10.—The entire election board, officials and clerks of a precinct polling place on the West Side was reported kidnapped by gangsters today and the ballot boxes wrecked.

Chicago, April 10.—Hoodlums, vice force, beatings, kidnappings, bullet box stuffing and terrorism marked Chicago's wildest primary election today.

Ramming rampart through doors, its police squad cars whirled to all parts of the city with each fresh report, city officials and election workers were terrified and were placed under strong guard as Chicagoans marched to the polls to cast their vote for the battling leaders in the torn Republican ranks here.

One man was shot, four election workers were kidnapped, three were beaten, seven reports of ballot stuffing were received, 11 polling places reported disorder and that hoodlums were wrecking the places and numerous minor cases of terrorism were reported to police.

A gang of men riding in an automobile appeared before a precinct in the Perry-Second Ward, five minutes later a call was received by election commissioners that the men were sitting in the machine with machine guns trained on the line of voters waiting to cast their ballots and directing them to vote for State's Attorney Crowe.

When detectives reached the scene the gangsters had departed. Three complaints of disorder, a poll place were reported in the heart of the business district, the complaints often being filed and marking of ballots.

Aristotle M. Collins, candidate for national convention delegate from the eighth Congressional District, was kidnapped by six men in an automobile, George Doherty, political worker, was snatched from within a polling place.

SAYS KLAN BOMBED OWN MEETING PLACE

Surprise Witness at Trial Asserts It Was Done To Strengthen Feeling

Pittsburgh, April 10.—The Ku Klux Klan bombed its own meeting hall in Dayton, O., "to strengthen feeling within the organization," and burned a church in West Dayton, Capt. J. R. Hammy of Dayton, a surprise witness at the Klan trial charged in Federal Court today.

Hammy testified for five seated members of the Pennsylvania Klan being sued for $500,000 by the organization. He said that he was formerly a member of the night riders, which he described as a branch of the Klan whose purpose was "to put over a reign of terror, including bombings, murder, assassinations and burning of churches."

Challenged at every turn by Klan counsel, Hammy said that after the church was burned at West Dayton, he was told by the night riders' leader, "that's the way we do business."

He said that dynamite was planted in a Klan meeting hall at the Klan and that after the dynamite was set off, a Klan car loaded with the wreckage of a Klansman's house, a new Klan house, Klansmen, and a new Klan house, Klansmen, and a new Klan house.

Star Oratorical Contest Commended By President In Address to Contestants

George Declares Great Good Is Certain To Result from National Study of Constitution, Which Is Basis of Competition

Editor's Note: The following address by President Coolidge was delivered before the high school orators representing the nation in the International Oratorical Contest at Washington. It is reproduced here for its value not only to the students now competing in the 1925 contest, but because of the president's expressed belief that the study of the constitution is of immense value to everyone who has contact with it.

France, Mexico and Canada.

Because of my belief in the profound benefit of this movement, I have taken this opportunity again to give it my most sincere commendation.

I wish to extend to all the participants in this contest, the most cordial greeting of America, and to the representatives of the press who have associated themselves in making the plans and bearing the expenses of this enterprise I offer the assurance of my appreciation.

The widespread interest that has been created is indicated by the participation of more than 2,500,000 students of the secondary schools of the five nations which are here represented, while more than 1,500 publications of various kinds have cooperated with the newspapers in sponsoring and financing the contest, giving it publicity and encouragement.

This movement has its inception in a widespread desire to secure a broader knowledge on the part of the people of the fundamental principles of our government, especially as exemplified in the American Constitution.

It began to be apparent that in the estimation of all too many government was considered as mostly a method of restraint upon the people and a process by which unfair advantage, usually designated as privilege, accrued to wealth.

Many people from foreign lands were crowding into our country who, while they were by no means the only source of opinions of this character, yet because of their generations of experience with forms of government partaking largely of the nature of tyranny and relying on a constant exhibition of force and repression for their authority.

were a most fertile field in which to promote discontent with its danger of future violence and by reason of the traditions to which they were born were easily led to look with suspicion and distrust upon all political institutions.

Also it had been a long time since we had much public discussion and exposition of fundamental American principles.

Such comment as was being made, being so largely made up of adverse criticism, was frowned too much upon by the public, so that our own people needed that enlightenment which comes from a candid investigation of the constructive and affirmative side of self government under free institutions.

It was confidently expected that such action would inform the people that this government is their government, that it exercises its authority as a result of the expression of their will, and that it is maintained for their benefit. It was further known that if study and consideration revealing defects or abuses, there would also reveal that the people have been provided by our Constitution itself with a means for its peaceful, orderly and legal revision and reform without resort to anything like violence or revolution.

We have had our day in this country of a resort to arms in order to defend our rights and insure our liberties, and out of that experience the Founding Fathers made wise provisions for enabling the people hereafter through the courts to protect themselves against all encroachments upon their rights and through the ballot box against the evils of bad administration.

We have gone so far as to undertake to furnish ample protection for the rights of the individual and of the minority, but always with the power of the majority to modify and change whenever it is convinced of the propriety of proceeding in that direction. Our government is simply what the people through their duly constituted procedure sanction, ordain and establish.

The importance of a full and complete comprehension of these great outstanding facts in American life by all the people cannot be too strongly stated or too often emphasized.

While it is true that we live under a system of self government, it is also true that self government is still government. Nothing is better established than that human progress depends upon the maintenance of order and the guidance of conduct in accordance with fixed rules.

As civilization advances and as human relations thereby become more and more intricate, these rules become more and more complicated. It is for this reason that the multiplication of laws has become unavoidable.

If they are wise and just, the fact that they are necessary is a sure index of progress. They provide the definition and the protection of all the rights and liberties of the citizen. They are the sole protection of the weak against the strong.

It is these conclusions that must inevitably follow the contemplation of the American system of government. To study it and comprehend it will be to cherish it and defend it.

Belief in our own form of government is not by any means to be considered a criticism of the institutions of other people. We think ours is best for us, while it is entirely probable that some other form is better for others.

Institutions are not handmade, they are not imposed—they are a growth. They are the achievement of the people themselves. A crude and barbarous people could not establish and maintain a free republic. Such people have always lived under some form of monarchy with very broad powers.

In the course of their development these powers have been limited more and more. Some method of public expression through an assembly of the people existing into a parliament has grown up until the final outcome is represented by a republic. All of these institutions have a historic background and a traditional support in the experience of the people.

Some have reached our stage, some are not. It is perfectly evident to the student that government is by no means so much a matter of theory and logic as it is a matter of custom and habit and a manifestation of the spirit of the nation. A people cannot break with their past. The national development which is of any permanent worth is always slow and deliberate.

Each people has to work out its own destiny. We could not superimpose our institutions upon other nations. The best service that we can render foreign countries in that direction is to leave them secure and undisturbed to develop their own institutions of freedom with such aid as we may mutually derive from the example of the mistakes and successes of each other.

It will be a help to the youth of different nations to learn of the benefits which each is deriving from its own institutions.

The main object of all this effort in studying government is to promote good citizenship. For this purpose it is not necessary that all the people in the community have a profound knowledge of international law, deep learning upon constitutional matters and wide acquaintance with statutory enactments.

It is necessary, however, that there should be an element who are proficient in these directions, and our youth ought to have sufficient knowledge of our institutions so that they will not be deceived by incorrect statements of facts and illogical arguments about them.

While each of our citizens ought to have sufficient faith and knowledge to reinforce their belief in America, after all, good citizenship is not so much a matter of information as of disposition, not so much of the head as of the heart, not so much dependent upon knowledge as upon sentiment. Those who want to do right have little difficulty in finding out the right.

American citizenship is not something that is intricate, involved, and mysterious, beyond the comprehension of ordinary intelligence.

Those who have had meagre opportunities oftentimes discharge their obligations to perfection, while those who seemingly have had every advantage accomplish nothing but failure. To provide for the economic well-being of our inhabitants, only three attributes, which are not beyond the reach of the average person, are necessary—honesty, industry and thrift. By devotion to these, people will in general be self-supporting and independent.

This applies to the private affairs of our citizens, but of course under our institutions the are all charged with the performance of public functions. Some will be called on to hold office. But all our citizens of the requisite age and education are called on to vote. I wish especially to emphasize that.

Whenever a choice is to be made in electing a public officer, all those who can qualify are under the most solemn and binding obligation to register their decision at the ballot box. To fail in that it is to be disloyal to our whole system of self-government.

On our theory that the people are sovereign, to neglect to vote is to abdicate. We do not pretend to give for correct decisions on the judgment of the selfish and the interested few, but rather on the patriotic choice of the great body of candid and independent citizens. We rely on the expression of the impartial voters.

A true election represents the untrammelled expression of their will. It is their voice that speaks with divine authority.

An imperative necessity makes another requirement of good citizenship to be obedience to law. This is the first requisite of all government that is worthy of the name. Observation of the law is the very essence of self-government.

It is the main source of certainty in all social relationships. Without it all those elements would be lacking on which we are dependent for economic structure. The protection of property, the security of the person, would be gone. The entire basis for credit would be lacking.

No standard of value for property could exist. Justice would vanish. The whole foundation of civilization would crumble. The protection of the weak would disappear. The sole reliance would be force. Might alone would rule. It is to rescue the people from this.

these conditions that constitutions are adopted and statutes enacted.

But all these will be of little avail unless there is fostered and maintained in the minds of our citizens a rugged respect for law and obedience to the laws. Those are some of the attributes which must characterize a self-supporting structure. The protection of property, the security of the person, would be gone. The entire basis for credit would be lacking.

I welcome the opportunity to join with you in a discussion of some of these principles which underlie the foundations of the well-being of our republic and the stability and firmness of our relationship with other nations.

Let them get their own!

CITY COUNCIL ACTS ON PAVING PROJECT

Preparation of Legislation Ordered for Homer-st Improvement

The second step in plans for paving of Homer-st from Center to Church-st. was taken by City Council at its meeting last night when the petition, presented to Council at its last meeting and returned with the approval of the street and alley committee, was referred to the city solicitor for legislation. The street is only one square long, but has one alley intersection and is practically all built up, it was announced by the committee last night. With but one alley intersection, the cost to the city will be small. The

URGES NEW SEWER FOR CAMPBELL-ST

City Engineer Makes Recommendation at Council Meeting

A recommendation for the building of a sanitary and storm water sewer on Campbell-st from Center to W. Center was presented to City Council by the Engineer Tom Cather at the meeting last night. The sewer, it was explained, is to be built on the east side of the street, and will connect with the new sewer to be built on W. Center-st and would eliminate the vast amount of trouble which has been experienced by residents of Campbell-st from water in their basements.

The old sewer, he said, was laid down and in bad condition, so bad, in fact, that it was necessary to cut it off at Campbell-st and run the water from the old plant down Campbell-st to a catch basin at Center. He estimated the cost of a 20-inch sewer, with an eight-inch sanitary sewer at $2,517. A blue print of the proposed sewer was submitted to Council by the engineer. No action was taken.

The assessment for the building of a sanitary and storm water sewer on the east side of Forest-lawn-bld from Church-st to Indiana-st, was given as $2 a front foot in a resolution passed by Council last night. The resolution authorized publication of the assessment.

READY TO LEAVE HOUSES

St. Clairsville, April 19.—Striking miners are preparing to leave company houses of their own accord, rather than await the action of federal marshals, following the ruling of Judge Benson. Hough today refusing an extension of the eviction until May 1. Some of the bunkhouses, now under construction will not be completed for about 10 days. Miners officials claim and compare houses will therefore be used until that time. From all appearances there will be no trouble arising from the change of dwelling, in the opinion of county officials.

CONVINCED THAT NEW KONJOLA IS A REAL MEDICINE

"Every Meal Meant Misery To Me," Says This Barber

MR. JOHN TOSCON

The sufferer who always takes something to settle his meals or force digestion, knows he is not getting permanent relief from his stomach trouble. Konjola conquers that sour, gassy condition after meals and restores the stomach to a more healthy state.

Just recently, Mr. John Toscon, a well known barber of Steubenville, Ohio, living at 601 Washington St., that city, said: "Every meal I ate meant misery to me until I started taking Konjola and now I can enjoy anything I want."

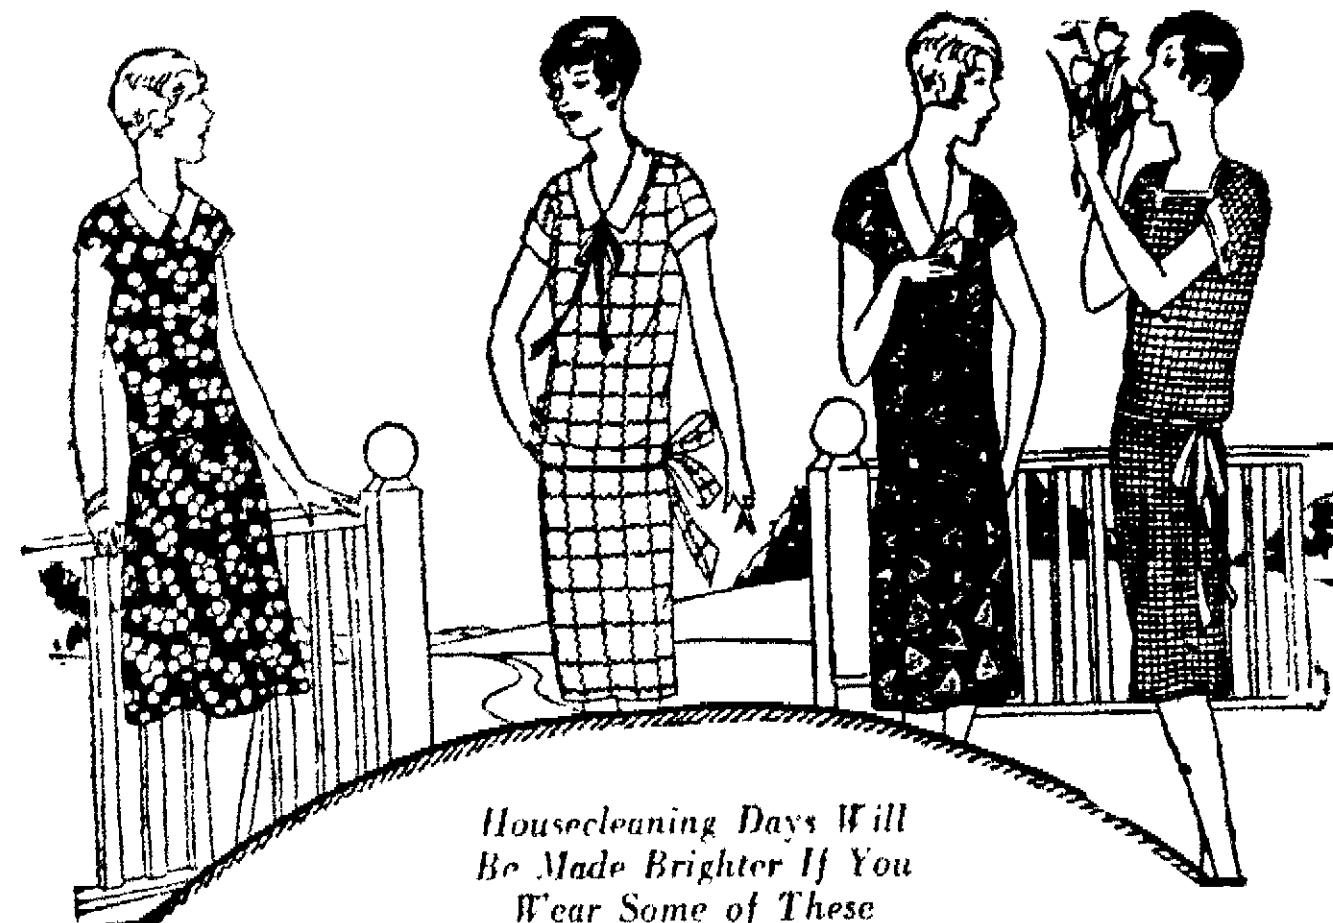

"I never had a more time before that gave me such quick relief from stomach trouble I had been suffering for the last few years. Why, the first bottle ended those terrible heartburn, pains and attacks of gas bloating I had after every meal. As I continued with a few more bottles of this Konjola all the miserable symptoms I had are entirely and now I can eat a hearty meal and feel no distress afterward. I also sleep better at night and have more energy during the day. I am convinced Konjola is a real medicine and I feel I am doing a good turn every time I recommend it to someone who is sick."

Konjola is different than any other known remedy in this section. It contains twenty-two pure extracts from natural plants which act upon the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels to a more healthy action. The effect of Konjola on the entire system brings amazing relief in cases of suffering that had been going on for years. At the same time many weak and run-down systems have been restored to a perfect state of health through the company. Such a vast number of men and women in this city have told of their experience with this new modern product until now Konjola is the most highly indorsed medicine that is known in this vicinity.

Konjola is strongly recommended here in Marion at St. John & Son Pharmacy and is also for sale at all the best druggists throughout this section.—Adv.

Good Weather Promised for Opening of Baseball Season

RAIN POSSIBILITY AT CINCINNATI IS ONLY PESSIMISTIC WORD

Start of Season Slated for Wednesday; Red Sox at Washington Today

BY DAVID J. WALSH
New York, April 10.—The first of the season's baseball games are expected to be played in fine weather, but one pessimistic word is being heard from Cincinnati, where the season is slated to open tomorrow.

It is the day of the year in which the weather is the most important factor in the success of the season. The weather is the one thing that can make or mar the season. The weather is the one thing that can make or mar the season.

Poor Weather at Cincy
Only for the Cincinnati opening, however, the Reds and Chicago Cubs, are the weather prophets disposed to be pessimistic. They have declared for overcast skies with a possibility of rain. However, "probably clear" is the word for the Polo Grounds' ceremonies involving the Giants and Braves and for the Ebbets Field affair between the Dodgers and Phillies.

At Shibe Park, Philadelphia, where the Yankees and Athletics will hold forth, the forecast is for fair weather. At St. Louis, the outlook is for "probably clear and warm" for the Cardinal-Pirate game. Fair and cool comes the word from Chicago for the White Sox-Indian contest and Detroit, where the Tigers and Browns will play, reports clear and cold weather. That is Boston's story, too, for the Red Sox-Senators opening.

Coolidge To Throw Ball
The latter, by the way, will be a transplanted repetition of today's "gun-blasting" ceremonies in Washington, the season being advanced one day in order that Mr. Coolidge may first-ball the situation.

New York, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Detroit and St. Louis figure to outscore the other openings in attendance. At the Polo Grounds, McGraw will march his Giants against the Braves and that means that Rogers Hornsby will be playing against the club that sent him away.

The Shibe Park affair couples the two leading clubs of the American League and will be a contest of Ruth and Gehrig on one side and Cobb and Speaker on the other. The fact, too, that the Yankees couldn't beat a carpet in the south has heightened interest in his contest.

Connie Mack is expected to start Lefty Grove against the champions. They probably will counter Will Pennington or Hoyt.

Batteries For Games
Anticipated batteries for the remaining games are:

American League—At Chicago, Hudson and Sewell, Indians, and Lyons and Berg, White Sox; at Boston, Marberry

NATIONAL LEADERS PREPARE FOR RACE

Managers of teams in the National League are preparing for a close race this year and, from present indications, it will be a hard battle throughout the season.

How will they finish? Take your pick, it is as good as ours. In order of standing by teams last the managers are: Frankie Frisch, Pittsburgh; Bill McKechnie, St. Louis;

John McGraw, New York; Joe McCarthy, Chicago; Jack Hendricks, Cincinnati; Wilbert Robinson, Brooklyn; Jack Slaters, Boston, and Bert Shotton, Philadelphia.

Barnstorming Tours of Major Loop Ball Clubs Cause Many Injuries to Players

By FRANK G. MENKE
EVERYBODY'S supposed to believe that ball clubs go into and Ruel, Senators, and MacFayden or Wilkie and Hoving, Red Sox; at Detroit, Gray and Schang, Browns, and Whitehill and Woodall, Tigers.

National League—At Brooklyn, Ferguson and Wilson, Phillies, and Petty or Vance and Deberry, Dodgers; at Cincinnati, Root and Gonzales, Cubs, and Duque and Hargrave, Reds; at St. Louis, Kremer and Smith, Pirates, and Haines and O'Farrell, Cardinals.

the Southland for the main purpose of having them up to play tip-top baseball when the season opens.

It sounds like house.

The athletes are shown along to some warm spot in the fading days of February, work there feverishly or several weeks and after that—what?

Oh, nothing more nor less than that the cash loving owners send them along on barnstorming tours, after which the jump into major league play, usually all banded and banged by the conditions they met in the jungle circuit.

It strikes anyone as strange that the magnates figure it is "conditioning" players to run them around for three weeks or so over a vast area of bush league cities. They ride day coaches, make short sleepers, are constantly in motion. They have to put up with plenty in the way of poor hotels, badly cooked food and radical changes in drinking water.

Play on Poor Fields
They must play on fields which often are nothing but vacant lots with the largest stones cleared away. Sprained legs, strained tendons, aching muscles and misplaced joints generally are the results of playing on such fields.

And often a player, because he must submit to radical daily changes in diet and in drinking water finally arrives for big league play with his digestive apparatus on the friz and his baseball efficiency shattered.

Some day some baseball magnate—there's none of the breed in existence now—will forget the idea of picking up a little loose change on barnstorming trips and will revolutionize things.

He will send his players into the Southland in the middle of March. He will conclude—and rightly—that three weeks—or four at the most—of training is enough. He will keep his team in that camp until the time has come to move them north for the baseball opening.

Time Will Come
He won't try to pick up a few hundred dollars barnstorming them—and thus risk having them become sick or injured.

He will regard the Springtime as training time.

He will be glad to spend $5,000 or $7,500 getting his men ready for big league play and won't try to get it back—perhaps with a profit by barnstorming them.

And then he'll send a perfectly conditioned ball club into the race.

As it is now, some of the ball players get into action in April actually overtrained; others arrive for the opening in bad physical condition due to the barnstorming in the small towns of the South.

Do Much Harm
It is an established fact that those barnstorming trips arranged with the outstanding thought of picking up expenses often do so much harm to the players that they offset all the good that the training period has accomplished.

But the magnates keep on doing it.

They can't resist the chance of picking up that extra money—$2500, $5000, or $7500. Just to get it they eagerly chance the injury or the illness of some star player.

They never look ahead—not with an easy dollar in sight.

"Get the money" is apparently the slogan of some baseball magnates, who call themselves "sportsmen" and who become most feverish and fretful when it is truthfully said that the only sport they

SEEK REMOVAL

Hudkins May Lose Position as Leading Challenger for Title

New York, April 10.—Jess McMahon, matchmaker for Madison Square Garden, today was to ask the State Boxing Commission to remove Ace Hudkins, of Lincoln, Neb., from his position as leading challenger for the welterweight title in New York. Hudkins, who previously had been eager to meet Joe Duane in a title bout here on June 7, now sends word that his hands are out of commission and asks an indefinite delay.

McMahon said he would suggest that Sergeant Sammy Baker be given the shot at Duane.

It is believed that a Chicago offer for Hudkins to battle Mickey Walker for the middleweight title on July 21 is responsible for Hudkins' failure to sign for a Duane bout.

Baseball once was a sport—for sport's sake.

And Napoleon once was a great general.

But baseball as a sport, like Napoleon as a general, has been waterlogged by the greed and the avarice of some of the men who play the game with the single thought of winning cash profits for themselves.

They never look ahead—not with an easy dollar in sight.

"Get the money" is apparently the slogan of some baseball magnates, who call themselves "sportsmen" and who become most feverish and fretful when it is truthfully said that the only sport they

As it is now, some of the ball players get into action in April actually overtrained; others arrive for the opening in bad physical condition due to the barnstorming in the small towns of the South.

Do Much Harm
It is an established fact that those barnstorming trips arranged with the outstanding thought of picking up expenses often do so much harm to the players that they offset all the good that the training period has accomplished.

But the magnates keep on doing it.

They can't resist the chance of picking up that extra money—$2500, $5000, or $7500. Just to get it they eagerly chance the injury or the illness of some star player.

BASEBALL'S GIFT TO MR. COOLIDGE

Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, is ready with the season passes which he presents to Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge each year.

Cold Rain Threatens To Stop Washington Opener

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The Boston Red Sox and the Washington Senators will officially open the 1928 baseball season this afternoon unless more rain falls by 3 o'clock, game time, it was announced here today.

The weather was cold and raw, but the rain which fell all night ceased soon after 9 a. m.

Heavy tarpaulins protected the field.

Club officials admitted it was anything but baseball weather, but said that 30,000 tickets had been sold and "the fans wouldn't be disappointed."

President Coolidge is scheduled to throw out the first ball, but it was said at the White House this morning that his presence was uncertain due to inclemency of the weather.

PARRA LOSES
Corporal Izzy Schwartz Reduces Rank of Flyweight Challengers

New York, April 10.—Corporal Izzy Schwartz, who holds the New York rights to the world's flyweight championship, today has reduced the rank of his challengers by one. Last night he eliminated Roulter Parra, champion of South America in a 15-round bout here. Parra failed to carry a round.

It was a $3 fight as assayed in the box office, but the customers more than got their money's worth.

MANSFIELD FIGHTERS FEATURE NEXT CARD HERE MONDAY NIGHT

Al Dundee Meets K. O. Morgan of Toledo in Main Go Attraction

Crystal Lake Park may be the scene of future summer boxing shows put on by the Marion Eagles Lodge if present attendance at fight cards continues to increase, according to an announcement made today.

Continuing series of popular priced shows, a 28-round card will be offered here Monday night at Eagles Hall, W. Center-st., with Al Dundee of Mansfield meeting K. O. Morgan of Toledo in the feature bout on the program.

The Mansfield boy is well known in Marion having fought here many times. He is a willing fighter ready to waste a dozen blows in order to land one sleep-making punch.

Although Morgan is not so well known in Marion he is quite popular in Toledo where he is called "the eccentric little southpaw." He has been winning a majority of his battles with real men and is claiming the flyweight championship of Ohio.

Johnny Lee of Mansfield and Sammy Lopez of Toledo are slated to exchange blows in the first of the eight round, double main go card. Both fighters have a good reputation in the squared ring and may be depended upon to give a good battle, according to advance reports.

Two local boys will appear in six-round preliminaries against fighters from the cauliflower stables at Mansfield. Harold Williams, that slugging Marion mauler, will take on Freddie Dundee while Ray Snyder another clever local youth, meets Gene Doyle.

This completes the program for the biggest show staged so far this year by the Eagles.

The horses that run fastest are those that can see best. Tests made with special instruments and powerful lights in an attempt to increase the speed of race-horses have shown that one horse out of every ten suffers from defective sight.

Keep neatly dressed and amiable and just drop in now and then and somebody will ask you to take a job.

Filing of Chattel Mortgages, Which Now Total 7,500 Yearly, Is Feature of Work at County Recorder's Office

Editor's Note:—This is the fourth of a series of articles commenting on the functions and operations of various city and county offices.

By HARRY S. ELLIOTT

THOUGH there are a few public offices where the volume and trend of transactions provide a fairly dependable means of diagnosing the business health of the community.

One of these is the County Recorder's office, where all papers relating to the ownership and tenancy of property are filed. If the Recorder and his assistants are kept busy taking care of such documents, particularly those relating to the transfer of real estate, the public can be reasonably assured that the community is in building and thriving condition.

The sign is not necessarily infallible, but certainly it does not indicate stagnation. Where real estate is changing hands frequently it is apparent that its value and that buyers count on its stability and prospects of being worth more in the future.

In Marion County there has been constant activity in the real estate market over a long period of years, as shown by books at the Recorder's office, that citizens here need not hesitate to accept this as an index to a healthy situation.

Chattel Mortgage Branch

In addition to keeping a record of all deeds, mortgages, leases and other documents relating to real estate transactions, this office is the filing place for chattel mortgages. In recent years that branch of the work has come to be one of the largest and most important in the office.

Chattel mortgages filed in Marion County now total approximately 7,500 annually and the number is increasing with each succeeding year.

Evidence of how this branch of the business has grown is found in an interesting comparison with former years. The records show that between 1896 and 1911—a period of 15 years—the chattel mortgage total was only 6,500, or 1,000 less than the average for a single year at this time.

Several reasons can be assigned for this rather amazing increase. In the first place, some dealers running a credit business now take mortgages as security for the goods sold.

Automobiles, radios, electric washing machines and various other modern devices sold "on time" figure to a large extent in the mounting total of chattel mortgages.

One long counter, extending practically the full length of one side of the recorder's office, is used entirely for the chattel mortgage records. Each mortgage is entered in two separate books, one a direct index and the other reverse. This double system makes it possible to find the entry in either the name of the mortgagee or mortgagor with almost ease and dispatch.

General Situation

This development of chattel mortgage transactions is not in any sense a purely local characteristic. The situation here is similar to conditions existing throughout the country, official and commercial surveys have shown.

It has been said that the records of real estate transactions are an index to a community's stability and progress.

prising 15 members, of which Russell M. Keith of Cleveland is chairman. This committee was empowered to make provision for a permanent organization, including the drafting of a proposed constitution and by-laws, and to submit its report at another meeting to be held in the Senate Chamber at 1:30 p. m., April 16.

This committee, also, was instructed to plan for observance of the week of May 21 as "Ohio Week."

Governor Donahy, it was decided, will be invited to serve as chairman ex-officio of the proposed permanent organization.

All individuals and organizations "interested in the welfare, development and advancement of" Ohio will be invited to become members of the organization.

There seems to be little if any argument on that point.

From the fact, said of chattel mortgages? That is a matter on which there is a greater difference of opinion. At any rate, it is conceded that since these mortgages in the main represent security given for merchandise, purchases they are evidence of business activity.

The recorder's office in Marion County receives and either files or records approximately 8,575 documents each year. The division is as follows: Real estate deeds, 550; real estate mortgages, 550; real estate leases, 100; chattel mortgages, 100; mechanics' liens, 100; chattel mortgages, 7,500.

All papers, with exception of chattel mortgages, are copied verbatim into the record book. The work is done with typewriter and in order to assure accuracy, everything is proofread. This care is essential, for the record of real estate transactions must be absolutely correct in every detail. A word out of place, or a punctuation mark omitted may result in invalidating the most vital part of the record.

The charge for this service is based on the number of words in the document recorded. The expense is small in comparison with the amount of work performed.

Salary Is Low

For supervising and assisting in this work the recorder in Marion County receives $2,120 a year. His salary is the smallest of all elective county officials, excepting the commissioners. The present recorder is Charles E. Smith and his assistants are Erin M. Bell, deputy and Mrs. Grace D. Zachman, typist. This operating force of three is no larger than the number employed in the office 20 years ago.

When Smith was elected for his first term in November, 1924 he was 22 years of age

Forward Stocks Movement Hits Snag

PROFIT-TAKING CHECKS RISE

Professional Selling Is Encouraged by Heavy Calling of Loans

New York, April 10.—The forward movement in the industrial leaders and specialty stocks encountered considerable opposition today, in the form of profit-taking and professional selling, the latter being encouraged by the heavy calling of loans by the New York banks and the gradual scaling down of the loan valuations of stocks that have led the skyward movement in recent weeks.

Stock experts were generally of the opinion that there was a considerable amount of profit-taking in the market today, and that the market was being held back by the heavy calling of loans by the New York banks and the gradual scaling down of the loan valuations of stocks that have led the skyward movement in recent weeks.

Among the additions to the bullfish group were American Zinc, which was added to the group of 31 for a gain of 4 points and Drug Syndicate had a tremendous turnover in covering the short distance between 13 1/2 and 14 1/2.

General Motors sold up about 2 points, also with a broad buying movement in which a number of 10,000-share blocks changed hands. General Motors, U. S. Steel, Radio, American Can, New York Central and other major bullfish stocks were generally up today.
